PREPARING AN AMAZING ONE MINUTE SPEECH

Write an opening line or two. You need to introduce yourself and catch your audience's attention. A rhetorical question, a tricolon (e.g. Shakespeare's "friends, Romans, countrymen lend me your ears"), a surprising fact, something personal or a controversial opinion, are all strong openings.

Write three points (magic threes) Don't include anything that does not directly contribute to your argument or story.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Write a closing line You could try a call to action, a strong summary, or a rhyme.
